The paper provides a detailed review of Africa’s extractive and how the continent can put itself on the trajectory for a just energy transition and leverage domestic resource mobilization for value addition, sector linkages, job creation, and overall participation across the extractive value chain.

The media are invited to cover the launch.

About the Tax Justice Network Africa

The Tax Justice Network Africa (TJNA) is a pan-African organization and a member of the Global Alliance for Tax Justice. Launched in January 2007 during the World Social Forum held in Nairobi, TJNA promotes socially just, accountable and progressive taxation systems in Africa. It advocates for tax policies with pro-poor outcomes and tax systems that curb public resource leakages and enhance domestic resource mobilisation.
